SchooliP has formed partnerships with some of the most trusted names in education.

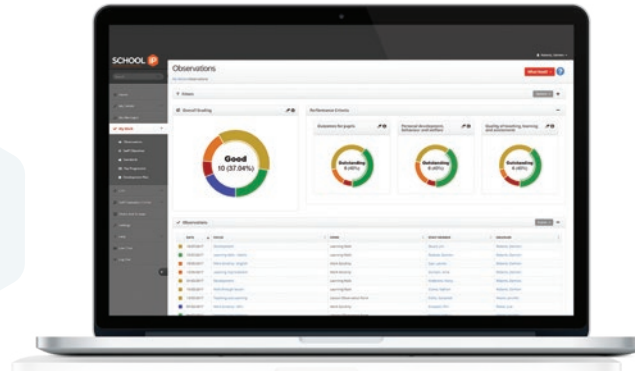

Save valuable time & money

SchooliP saves valuable leadership time that was previously spent collating management reports.

School leaders spend hours producing reports on staff performance. Over the course of an academic year this time spent would total many thousands of pounds. When SchooliP is employed this time can be saved and recycled back into areas where it is most needed. SchooliP contains the following management reports where data may be viewed across your school or trust:

- Observations/Learning Walks/Work Scrutiny
- Staff Objectives
- Standards
- Pay Progression
- Review Outcomes
- Areas for Development
- CPD Requests
- CPD Activities/Courses

SchooliP helps to engage and empower all staff with their own development and makes it easy to track and evaluate their performance.

" All elements of performance management and professional development are centralised in one place. The School Development Plan, Departmental Leadership, Appraisals, CPD and Self-Evaluation are integrated together. Senior leaders; therefore, have a wealth of information to hand that can be quickly analysed in only a few mouse clicks which saves hours of professional time."

Gary King, Deputy Headteacher, ISCA Academy, Ted Wragg Multi-Academy Trust

" SchooliP is worth the investment. It saves time, saves paperwork, it makes processes slicker plus the mobile app means that you don't even have to be at a computer. It's an all in one package that really does suit all your needs."

Mandi Uden, Deputy Headteacher, Rivermead School, Rivermead Inclusive Trust

Enhance your strategic planning

SchooliP provides a strategic framework for improvement

SchooliP helps schools to tailor their improvement activities to the key areas for improvement that have been arrived at through a recent inspection or rigorous self-evaluation.

These improvement activities are labelled as Priorities. The development or improvement plan for a school is then focused on these priorities and key staff objectives are too. This enables the strategic improvement to be clearly identified and the progress accurately tracked.

“ SchooliP enables School Development Plans, Self-Evaluation Forms, Teaching Standards and Observations forms to be integrated into the system. This centralised approach enables performance management to be more focused and greater status is afforded to school improvement.”

Chris Stewart - Assistant Headteacher and Director of Key Stage 4 Learning - Ormskirk School

“ The strength of SchooliP is it allows me to have an overview of the strengths and areas for development of the staff as a whole.”

Liz Mastin, Vice Principal, Manor Church of England Academy, Hope Learning Trust, York
